

IID CODE OF CONDUCT

September 2018.

On Social Engagements

1. The £100 donation- Cap which is always to be contributed by the attendees and top up from Organization purse if its not enough not be applicable anymore.
2. Henceforth we shall not dip into the IID's account, neither shall we return; from any money contributed to the host. Instead, every attendee is expected to contribute £10 each and whatever it's amount to shall be given to the Host. After that individual can do the needful depending their relationships.
3. Qualification for inviting the Organization to an event shall be after 6months of Membership, good performance in terms financial Commitment. But he or she is allowed on private and individual basis.
4. A member is not deem to invite the Organisation for more than once within an administrative year, any invitation other than this is allowed on private and individual basis.
5. For Record purpose and future record, the money contributed at any event is declared to those who contributed it, handed over the to the financial Secretary who will issue cheque in the name of the Host after the event.
6. Members shall always be enlightened, encouraged and remember to do the needful in accordance to our Culture and Tradition on how to engage ourselves on Social Matters.

On Welfarism

1. We shall not dip into the account of the Organisation for whatsoever the reason except there is a call for such with the general consensus at the General Meeting.
2. Such Welfarism are but not limited to (A) When a member is terribly sick (B) When a member is bereaved (C). When or where a Member is in detention or in jail (D). When or where a Member loose his/her job/house.
3. But the Organization shall appeal to all the Members to do the needful in accordance to our Culture and Tradition on how to engage ourselves on Welfarism.
4. Members shall always be enlightened, encouraged and remember to do the needful in accordance to our Culture and Tradition when any of the above needs arise.

On Doing Business Among the Members.

1. On Delivery of Products and Services within the Members, the Business owner is expected to engage the Clients with Honesty, Trust, and Reliability.
2. The Owner of the Business is expected to set clearly the terms and conditions together with the pricing before engagement.
3. Members/Clients are expected to take business as business and not mingle pleasure with business.
4. Members/Clients are expected to ask for a clear terms and condition together with the pricing before commitment.
5. IID will not encourage credit facilities at all, but where such arises, let it be documented.

REVIEW

Provision for Review:

1. The first 3months of any rejected Bill.
2. The first 6months if the same bill is rejected or unpassed after the first 3months Review
3. At the Expiry of the Administrative year.